

IN THE UNITED STATES DISTRICT COURT FOR THE DISTRICT OF PUERTO RICO

UNITED STATES OF AMERICA,

Plaintiff,

v.

CRIMINAL NO. 23-195 (ADC)

[13] CHRISTIAN J. RIVERA-RENOVALES,

Defendant.

MAGISTRATE JUDGE’S REPORT AND RECOMMENDATION
RE: RULE 11(c)(1)(B) GUILTY PLEA HEARING

I. Procedural Background:

On May 11, 2023, defendant Christian J. Rivera-Renovales was charged in a multi-count and multi-defendant indictment. (Docket No. 3). He agreed to plead guilty to Count Seventeen of said indictment.

Count Seventeen charges that from in or about April 2020, through approximately May 11, 2023, in the District of Puerto Rico, and elsewhere, Mr. Rivera, aiding and abetting others, knowingly devised, and intent to devise, a scheme and artifice to defraud the United States Small Business Administration, and to obtain money and property by means of materially false and fraudulent pretenses, representations, and promises, by submitting and causing to be submitted false and fraudulent applications for COVID-19 relief funds issued under the authority of the Coronavirus Aid. Relief, and Economic Security (“CARES”) Act. Specifically, it is alleged that on or about May 4, 2021, Mr. Rivera aiding and abetting others, for purposes of executing the scheme and artifice

1 to defraud, and attempting to do so, transmitted, and caused to be transmitted, writings, 2 signs, signal, pictures, and sounds by means of wire communications in interstate 3 commerce, in relation to fraudulent applications for COVID-19 relief funds.

4 Defendant appeared before me, assisted by the court interpreter, on May 30, 2024, 5 after the Rule 11 hearing was referred to me by the Presiding District Judge. See United 6 States v. Woodard, 387 F.3d 1329 (11th Cir. 2004) (magistrate judge had authority to 7 conduct Rule 11 guilty plea hearing with consent of defendant). He was advised of the 8 purpose of the hearing and placed under oath with instructions that his answers must be 9 truthful lest he subject himself to possible charges of perjury or making a false statement.
10

11 II. Consent to Proceed Before a Magistrate Judge:

12 Defendant was provided with a Waiver of Right to Trial by Jury form, which he 13 signed.<sup>1</sup> He was advised of his right to hold all proceedings, including the change of plea
14 hearing, before a district court judge. He received an explanation of the differences 15 between the scope of jurisdiction and functions of a district judge and a magistrate judge.
16 He was informed that if he elected to proceed before me, a magistrate judge, that I would 17 conduct the hearing and prepare a report and recommendation, subject to review and 18 approval of the District Judge. The defendant then voluntarily consented to proceed 19 before me.

III. Proceedings Under Rule 11 of the Federal Rules of Criminal Procedure:

Rule 11 of the Federal Rules of Criminal Procedure governs the acceptance of guilty pleas to federal criminal violations. Pursuant to Rule 11, in order for a plea of guilty to constitute a valid waiver of the defendant's right to trial, the guilty plea must be knowing and voluntary. United States v. Hernandez-Wilson, 186 F.3d 1, 5 (1st Cir. 1999). "Rule 11 was intended to ensure that a defendant who pleads guilty does so with an 'understanding of the nature of the charge and consequences of his plea.'" United States v. Cotal-Crespo, 47 F.3d 1, 4 (1st Cir. 1995) (quoting McCarthy v. United States, 394 U.S. 459, 467 (1969)). There are three core concerns in a Rule 11 proceeding: 1) absence of coercion; 2) understanding of the charges; and 3) knowledge of the consequences of the guilty plea. Cotal-Crespo, 47 F.3d at 4 (citing United States v. Allard, 926 F.2d 1237, 1244 (1st Cir. 1991)).

A. Competence to Enter a Guilty Plea

I questioned the defendant about his age, education, employment, history of any treatment for mental illness or addiction, use of any medication, drugs, or alcohol, and his understanding of the purpose of the hearing, all in order to ascertain his capacity to understand, answer and comprehend the change of plea colloquy. I confirmed that the defendant received the indictment and fully discussed the charges with his attorney and was satisfied with the advice and representation he received. In addition, I further inquired whether defendant's counsel or counsel for the government had any doubt as to his competency to plead, receiving answers from both that the defendant was competent to enter a plea. After considering the defendant's responses, and observing his demeanor,

1 a finding was made that Mr. Rivera was competent to plead and fully aware of the 2 purpose of the hearing.

3 B. Maximum Penalties

5 Upon questioning, the defendant expressed his understanding of the maximum 6 penalties prescribed by statute for the offense to which he was pleading guilty, namely:
7 a term of imprisonment of thirty (30) years and a fine not to exceed one million dollars 8 ($1,000,000), and a supervised release term of not more than five (5) years in addition 9 to any term of incarceration for the offense as charged. However, Mr. Rivera 10 acknowledged understanding that for purpose of the plea agreement between the parties, 11 he will be held accountable for the offense of wire fraud that does not affect a financial 12 institution or occur in relation to, or involve any benefit authorized, transported, 13 transmitted, transferred, disbursed, or paid in connection with, a presidentially declared 14 major disaster or emergency, which carries a maximum statutory penalty of: no more 15 than twenty (20) years of imprisonment, a fine of not more than two hundred fifty 16 thousand ($250,000.00) dollars, and a supervised release term of not more than three 17
18
19 (3) years.

20 The defendant also understood that a Special Monetary Assessment of $100.00 21 would be imposed, to be deposited in the Crime Victim Fund, pursuant to Title 18, United 22 States Code, Section 3013(a). The court explained the nature of supervised release and 23 the consequences of revocation. The defendant indicated that he understood the 24 maximum penalties for Count Seventeen and the potential consequences of the guilty 25 plea.
26
27
28

1                   C.     Plea Agreement

2           Mr. Rivera was shown his plea agreement, and the plea agreement supplement, 3           which are part of the record, and identified his initials and signatures. He confirmed that 4           he had the opportunity to read and discuss the plea agreement with his attorney before 5           he signed it, that it represented the entirety of his understanding with the government, 6           that he understood its terms, and that no one had made any other or different promises 7           or assurances to induce him to plead guilty.

9           The defendant was then admonished, pursuant to Fed. R. Crim. P. 11(c)(1)(B), and 10          expressed his understanding that the terms of the plea agreement are merely 11          recommendations to the court, and that the district judge who will preside over the 12          sentencing hearing can reject the recommendation without permitting the defendant to 13          withdraw his guilty plea, and impose a sentence that is more severe than the defendant 14          might anticipate. The defendant was specifically informed that the court, after 15          considering the applicable Sentencing Guidelines, could impose a sentence different 16          from any estimate in the plea agreement or provided by his attorney, and that the court 17          had the authority to impose a sentence that is more severe or less severe than the 18          sentence called for by the Sentencing Guidelines. The defendant was advised, and 19          understood, that the Sentencing Guidelines are no longer mandatory and are thus 20          considered advisory, and that during sentencing the court will consider the sentencing 21          criteria found at Title 18, United States Code, Section 3553(a).
22
23
24

25          The defendant was advised that under some circumstances he or the government 26          may have the right to appeal the sentence the court imposes, but that pursuant to the 27          plea agreement the defendant will waive his right to appeal both his sentence and his 28

1 conviction if the court adopts the plea agreement and sentences him according to its 2 terms and conditions.

3 D. Waiver of Constitutional Rights

4 Mr. Rivera was specifically advised that he has the right to persist in a plea of not 5 guilty, and if he does so persist that he has the right to a speedy and public trial by jury, 6 or trial before a judge sitting without a jury if the court and the government so agree; 7 that at trial he would be presumed innocent and the government would have to prove his 8 guilt beyond a reasonable doubt; that he would have the right to the assistance of counsel 9 for his defense, and if he could not afford an attorney the court would appoint one to 10 represent him throughout all stages of the proceedings; that at trial he would have the 11 right to hear and cross examine the government's witnesses, the right to decline to testify 12 unless he voluntarily elected to do so, and the right to the issuance of subpoenas or 13 compulsory process to compel the attendance of witnesses to testify. He was further 14 informed that if he decided not to testify or put on evidence at trial, the failure to do so 15 could not be used against him, and that at trial the jury must return a unanimous verdict 16 before he could be found guilty or not guilty.

17 The defendant specifically acknowledged understanding these rights and 18 understanding that by entering a plea of guilty there would be no trial and he will be 19 waiving or giving up the rights I explained.

20 The defendant was informed that parole has been abolished and that any sentence 21 of imprisonment must be served, and that his guilty plea may result in loss of important 22 civil rights, such as the right to vote, to hold public office, to serve on a jury, and to 23

1 possess a firearm. The defendant confirmed that he understood these consequences of 2 the guilty plea.

3 E. Factual Basis for the Guilty Plea

4 Defendant was read in open court Count Seventeen of the indictment and 5 provided an explanation of the elements of the offense. The meaning of terms used in the 6 indictment was explained. Further, upon questioning, the defendant admitted to facts 7 constituting all of the elements of the offense charged in Count Seventeen and that the 8 evidence the government had available to establish, in the event defendant elected to go 9 to trial, the defendant's guilt beyond a reasonable doubt.
10

11 F. Voluntariness

12 The defendant indicated that he was not being forced to plead guilty but was 13 entering such a plea freely and voluntarily because in fact he is guilty, and that no one 14 had threatened him or offered a thing of value in exchange for his plea. He acknowledged 15 that no one had made any different or other promises in exchange for his guilty plea, 16 other than the recommendations set forth in the plea agreement. Throughout the hearing 17 the defendant was able to consult with his attorney.
18

19 IV. Conclusion:

20 The defendant, by consent, appeared before me pursuant to Rule 11 of the Federal 21 Rules of Criminal Procedure, and entered a plea of guilty as to Count Seventeen of the 22 indictment. After cautioning and examining the defendant under oath and in open court 23 concerning each of the subject matters mentioned in Rule 11, I find that the defendant, 24 Christian J. Rivera-Renovales is competent to enter this guilty plea, is aware of the nature 25 of the offense charged and the maximum statutory penalties that it carries, understands 26
27
28

1 that the charge is supported by evidence and a basis in fact, has admitted to the elements 2 of the offense, and has done so in an intelligent and voluntary manner with full 3 knowledge of the consequences of his guilty plea. Therefore, I recommend that the Court 4 accept the guilty plea and that the defendant be adjudged guilty as to Count Seventeen 5 of the indictment.

7 This report and recommendation is filed pursuant to 28 U.S.C. § 636(b)(1)(B) and 8 Rule 72(d) of the Local Rules of this Court. Any objections to the same must be specific 9 and must be filed with the Clerk of Court within 14 days. Failure to file timely and 10 specific objections to the report and recommendation is a waiver of the right to appellate 11 review. See Thomas v. Arn, 474 U.S. 140, 155 (1985); Davet v. Maccorone, 973 F.2d 22,
